Course Period in Japan: From October 9, 2016 to November 17, 2016

This information pertains to one of the JICA Knowledge Co-Creation Programs (Group & Region Focus) of the Japan International Cooperation Agency (JICA), which shall be implemented as part of the Official Development Assistance of the Government of Japan based on bilateral agreement between the relevant Governments.

JICA Knowledge Co-Creation (KCC) Program as a New Start

In the Development Cooperation Charter which was released from the Japanese Cabinet on February 2015, it is clearly pointed out that “In its development cooperation, Japan has maintained the spirit of jointly creating things that suit partner countries while respecting ownership, intentions and intrinsic characteristics of the country concerned based on a field-oriented approach through dialogue and collaboration. It has also maintained the approach of building reciprocal relationships with developing countries in which both sides learn from each other and grow and develop together.” We believe that this ‘Knowledge Co-Creation Program’ will serve as a center of mutual learning process.
I. Concept

Background

Corruption poses a serious threat to the stability and security of societies. The enormous negative impact of corruption and its increasing transnational aspects led to universal recognition that this phenomenon had to be addressed collectively at the international level. Consequently, several multilateral instruments against corruption have been adopted since the mid-1990s. One important example is the Organization for Economic Co-operation and Development (OECD) Convention on Combating Bribery of Foreign Public Officials in International Business Transactions. The most important of these instruments, the United Nations Convention against Corruption (hereinafter referred to as “UNCAC”), was adopted by the UN General Assembly on 31 October 2003. The adoption or ratification of UNCAC, however, does not automatically eradicate corruption. Investigation, prosecution, adjudication and just punishment of corruption (including confiscation of criminal proceeds and recovery of assets) are not easy tasks to accomplish, and a large number of countries are still in the process of tackling the problem. Against this backdrop, the United Nations Asia and Far East Institute for the Prevention of Crime and the Treatment of Offenders (UNAFEI), as a regional institute of the United Nations Crime Prevention and Criminal Justice Programme Network, decided to hold this training program in order to review each country’s criminal justice system, and explore how it could be strengthened, paying special attention to UNCAC.

For what?

The objective of this program is to give criminal justice officials in the partner countries an opportunity to share experiences, gain knowledge, and examine concrete measures against corruption. It is also hoped that the participants will create an international network of counterparts.

For whom?

This program is offered to relatively senior criminal justice officials, such as investigators, public prosecutors and judges, who actually deal with corruption cases. Legislative administrators in charge of anti-corruption legislation and public officials who are in charge of the activities for preventing corruption are also acceptable on the condition that they have sufficient knowledge of the criminal justice system.

How?

This program consists of lectures (by UNAFEI professors and experts from inside and outside Japan), discussion sessions (individual presentations by participants and group workshops), observation visits, and other activities. This curriculum will facilitate dialogue in which experience and expertise will be shared, new knowledge acquired, and a network created.

3. Preliminary Phase (activities in participants’ home countries):

Preparation of the Individual Presentation Paper

Before coming to Japan:

(1) Each participant is required to prepare one paper: an individual presentation paper relating to the Program’s main theme (IP paper) should be submitted along with an application form by August 19. The IP Paper is the main assignment for this program.

(2) In the IP Paper, participants are requested to focus on the main theme of this Program, bearing in mind the “Objectives of the Program” and the “Rationale of the Program”; the paper should cover the measures for the detection and punishment of corruption in your country by addressing the issues below.

   The IP Paper should contain at least one case study of a corruption case in relation to public procurement treated in your country.

   General description of the procurement system in your country and problems encountered and solutions made in the course of investigation, prosecution or trial of said case should be discussed in the IP Paper.

   The case is not necessary to be one which the participant has been actually involved in, but the participant should provide sufficient information about the case in his/her individual presentations for further discussions.

   In case the participant could not provide any case study in his/her IP Paper, he/she could replace the paper to the detailed explanation of public procurement system from the point of view how such system could serve for effective investigation, prosecution and trial in criminal justice system.

(3) The IP paper should be topic-focused and analytical. General information on the criminal justice system of the participant’s country is not necessary unless directly relevant to the substance of the discussion. Matters outside of this scope, such as a general introduction to the participant’s country (e.g. geography, economy, and population), should not be included in the IP Paper.

(5) The IP paper should be at least 8 pages in length (double-spaced and typewritten on a personal computer with MS-Word, A4 size). In addition to the paper, preparing PowerPoint slides is also strongly recommended.
(6) For more detailed information concerning the format of the IP paper, please refer to the attached memorandum by the Linguistic Adviser of UNAFEI.

(7) Prior to the participants’ departure, UNAFEI professors will contact them for consultation or suggestions on the content and length of their paper. Participants should check their email regularly for messages from UNAFEI.

(8) The participants are requested, as appropriate, to bring texts of laws and regulations relevant to the theme of the Program as well as statistics and other relevant materials (e.g. documents, videos, photographs, charts etc.) to enrich and enhance their contribution to the Program, particularly to the Individual Presentations and Group Workshop sessions.

4. Core Phase (activities in Japan):
This Program will be mainly composed of lectures, individual presentations, plenary and group discussions, and observation visits as follows:

(1) Individual Presentations (IPs)
Individual presentations will give the participants the opportunity to compare the actual trends, systems and practices of their countries in regard to the main theme of the Program.
IP sessions are one of the core parts of the program. Each participant will be requested to make a presentation on the situation in his or her country concerning the subject matter of the program. After completing the selection procedure, UNAFEI professors will inform the participants directly (or by an official letter) of the specific contents to be addressed in individual presentation.

(2) Group Workshops
Group workshops further examine the subtopics under the main theme of the program. The participants are divided into groups. The group members study the designated subtopics and exchange views based on the information obtained through personal experience, the Individual Presentations, lectures, and so forth. The participants are expected to compile their results into a report that will be published by UNAFEI.

(3) In addition, the course will include:
(i) Lectures by experts on subjects relating to the main theme and other subjects of general interest;
(ii) Observation visits to agencies relating to the main theme of the course; and

MEMORANDUM ON FORMAT, STYLE AND USAGE

To: Applicants
From: Linguistic Adviser of UAFEI
Re: Individual Presentation Papers

I. INTRODUCTION

As part of our programme, we ask that seminar or course participants submit papers for presentation and possible publication on the programme theme. The following information is provided to guide the preparation of your paper(s) and to assist UAFEI in the process of editing and publishing the Resource Materials Series. Your adherence to our formatting and stylistic requirements is greatly appreciated when drafting papers.

By submitting your paper to UAFEI for publication, you represent that you are the paper’s sole author and that all text requiring quotation or citation has been properly attributed to its source. Further, you authorize UAFEI to edit your paper so that it conforms to the format, style and usage set forth herein.

II. PARTICIPANTS’ INDIVIDUAL PRESENTATION PAPERS

The papers of some participants are selected for publication in the Resource Materials Series. In order for a paper to be published, it must meet the format, style and usage criteria set forth below. Please submit each paper to be presented in electronic (MS Word) format as directed by UAFEI. Papers that do not comply with the publication criteria may be returned to you for revision.

A. Papers for Publication

1. Please format all papers as follows:
   - Papers do not require title or cover pages, but you may include them in the version of your paper that will be distributed to your fellow participants. However, title pages and national or agency logos will not be published in the Resource Material Series.
   - It is not necessary to include an index. However, a clear structure, including an introduction, headings and conclusion, is important.
   - Type the title of your paper in full capital letters, Times New Roman, 14-point font.
   - Type the body of your paper in Times New Roman, 12-point font (including headings and sub-headings).
   - Type all footnotes in Times New Roman, 10-point font.
   - All text must be double spaced (for page-length and editing purposes).
• Please note that all copy within UNAFEI’s publications is printed in black and white.
• Set top, bottom, left and right margins at 25.4 mm, or 1 inch.
• Indent the first line of each paragraph of main body text.
• Please ensure sufficient spacing. There should be a space of one line between paragraphs of text.
• To make a series of points in text, please use either Roman numerals, e.g. (i), (ii), (iii), etc., or bullet points (this • symbol).
• Please format headings, etc. as indicated in Appendix A below.
• Block quotations (quotations exceeding 49 words in length) should be indented 20 mm from the left and right margins. The text should be single spaced, and do not use quotation marks. Please cite your authority using a footnote or string citation (legal).
• Appendices should be placed at the end of your paper and should be alphabetized, e.g. Appendix A, Appendix B, etc., and formatted in the same style as the headings and text of your paper.

2. Please note the following on style and usage:
• Titles of works should appear in italics and should be quoted with the full title upon first mention, i.e. not "ICLR" but International Criminal Law Review.
• Italics should be used for unusual Latin or other foreign language quotations. Well-known and common expressions such as de facto, ibid, supra and infra should be left in normal font type.
• Italics may be used for emphasis. Please do not underline or use bold in the text.
• All papers must be spell checked and proof read/edited before submission.
• Wherever possible, please use gender-neutral language. Use of “his/her”, “their”, etc. is preferred. This is a policy of UNAFEI and the United Nations.
• Quotations: Following the American style, quotations must be marked by double marks " " and are not indented; when a sub-quote appears within a quote, use single marks ‘ ’ to identify the sub-quote.1 Alternate quotation marks in the aforementioned order if further sub-quotes are necessary.
• Commas: UN practice is to avoid the serial comma unless it is necessary to provide clarity. Proper usage is as follows: “The report addressed A, B and C.” No comma appears after B. However, add a comma if it helps the reader, or is necessary for clarity: “Reports were presented by countries A and B, C and D, and E and F.”

3. Spelling and Hyphenation

Please use British English in accordance with United Nations’ practice. However, British English diverges on certain spellings (z v. s) and on the hyphenation of prefix-formed compounds (cooperate v. co-operate). The following rules are intended to provide guidance on UN spelling conventions. See the United Nations Editorial Manual Online (the “UN Manual”).

- Generally, UN style prefers z to s. For example, organization, not organisation; summarize, not summarise. However, exceptions include analyse instead of analyze. Note that some words can only be spelled with an s, such as advertise.
- Learned, not learnt; spelled, not spelt.
- Programme, not program (Br. English v. Am. English).
- Centre, not center (Br. English v. Am. English).
- Behaviour, not behavior; colour, not color (Br. English v. Am. English).
- Prefix-Formed Hyphenated Compounds: UN style prefers closing some compounds formed by prefixes (i.e. cooperate instead of co-operate) while hyphenating others (i.e. re-examine instead of re-examine). Please consult the UN Manual for guidance.
- Other Hyphenated Compounds: Compound adjectives should by hyphenated if doing so avoids confusion: short-term allowance or English-speaking people (people who speak English as opposed to English people who can speak). Also, use double hyphenation for anti-money-laundering measures, because anti-money does not exist.

4. Additional Guidance and References

If there is a conflict between the UN Manual or any other source mentioned in this Memorandum, this Memorandum shall supersed all other authorities solely to the extent that they are applied to UNAFEI publications. For guidance on spelling beyond the UN Manual, consult the Concise Oxford English Dictionary, Twelfth Ed., or any subsequent edition thereof. Please direct any questions regarding this Memorandum to Tom Schmid, UNAFEI’s Linguistic Adviser, at tom@unafei.com.

JICA and Capacity Development

The key concept underpinning JICA operations since its establishment in 1974 has been the conviction that “capacity development” is central to the socioeconomic development of any country, regardless of the specific operational scheme one may be undertaking, i.e. expert assignments, development projects, development study projects, training programs, JOCV programs, etc.

Within this wide range of programs, Training Programs have long occupied an important place in JICA operations. Conducted in Japan, they provide partner countries with opportunities to acquire practical knowledge accumulated in Japanese society. Participants dispatched by partner countries might find useful knowledge and re-create their own knowledge for enhancement of their own capacity or that of the organization and society to which they belong.

About 460 pre-organized programs cover a wide range of professional fields, ranging from education, health, infrastructure, energy, trade and finance, to agriculture, rural development, gender mainstreaming, and environmental protection. A variety of programs and are being customized to address the specific needs of different target organizations, such as policy-making organizations, service provision organizations, and research and academic institutions. Some programs are organized to target a certain group of countries with similar developmental challenges.

Japanese Development Experience

Japan was the first non-Western country to successfully modernize its society and industrialize its economy. At the core of this process, which started more than 140 years ago, was the “adopt and adapt” concept by which a wide range of appropriate skills and knowledge have been imported from developed countries; these skills and knowledge have been adapted and/or improved using local skills, knowledge and initiatives. They finally became internalized in Japanese society to suit its local needs and conditions.

From engineering technology to production management methods, most of the know-how that has enabled Japan to become what it is today has emanated from this “adoption and adaptation” process, which, of course, has been accompanied by countless failures and errors behind the success stories. We presume that such experiences, both successful and unsuccessful, will be useful to our partners who are trying to address the challenges currently faced by developing countries.

However, it is rather challenging to share with our partners this whole body of Japan’s developmental experience. This difficulty has to do, in part, with the challenge of explaining a body of “tacit knowledge,” a type of knowledge that cannot fully be expressed in words or numbers. Adding to this difficulty are the social and cultural systems of Japan that vastly differ from those of other Western industrialized countries, and hence still remain unfamiliar to many partner countries. Simply stated, coming to Japan might be one way of overcoming such a cultural gap.

JICA, therefore, would like to invite as many leaders of partner countries as possible to come and visit us, to mingle with the Japanese people, and witness the advantages as well as the disadvantages of Japanese systems, so that integration of their findings might help them reach their developmental objectives.

About UNAFEI

The United Nations Asia and Far East Institute for the Prevention of Crime and the Treatment of Offenders (UNAFEI) is a United Nations regional institute, established in 1962 by agreement between the United Nations and the Government of Japan, with the aim of promoting the sound development of criminal justice systems and mutual cooperation in Asia and the Pacific Region. UNAFEI activities include training courses and seminars for personnel in crime prevention and criminal justice administration, and the research and study of crime prevention and the treatment of offenders. It also conducts special seminars outside of Japan. UNAFEI annually organizes three international training courses and one international seminar. Participants represent mainly Asia and the Pacific Region, but some come from other regions of the world such as Africa and Latin America. This program contributes significantly to the training of personnel in criminal justice, and to providing ideas and knowledge for effective measures to combat crime in developing nations. For over 50 years, UNAFEI’s efforts in training personnel have helped those individuals play leading roles in the criminal justice administration of their respective countries.
