1. Introduction

1.1 The Foreign Exchange Management Act, 1999 (FEMA) empowers the Reserve Bank to frame regulations to prohibit, restrict and regulate the opening, holding and maintaining of foreign currency accounts and the limits up to which amounts can be held in such accounts by a person resident in India. These regulations are notified under Notification No. FEMA 10/2000-RB of May 3, 2000, (FEMA 10) as amended from time to time.

1.2 A person resident in India who held or maintained a Foreign Currency Account before the commencement of FEMA 10 with special or general permission of the Reserve Bank, can continue to maintain the account.

1.3 A person resident in India may maintain a foreign currency account outside India if he had maintained it when he was resident outside India or inherited it from a person resident outside India.

2. Definitions

Some key terms used in this part are given below:

2.1 ‘Authorised Dealer’ (AD) means a person authorised as an authorised dealer under sub-section (1) of section 10 of FEMA.

2.2 ‘Foreign Currency Account’ means an account held or maintained in currency other than the currency of India or Nepal or Bhutan.

2.3 ‘Relative’ is a person as defined in section 6 of the Companies Act, 1956

3. Foreign Currency Accounts that can be held in India

3.1 Exchange Earner's Foreign Currency (EEFC) Account – EEFC Account

A person resident in India may open an EEFC account with an AD in India as per the conditions stipulated in Schedule 1 to FEMA 10. The salient features of the scheme are:

1) Credits: The credits permitted to this account are:
a. 100 percent of the foreign exchange earnings by way of inward remittance through normal banking channel, (other than loans or investments);

b. payments received for the purpose of counter trade;

c. advance remittance received by an exporter towards export of goods or services;

d. professional earnings including director’s fees, consultancy fees, lecture fees, honorarium and similar other earnings received by a professional by rendering services in his individual capacity;

e. interest earned on the funds held in the account;

f. Re-credit of unutilised foreign currency earlier withdrawn from the account;

g. repayment of trade related loans/ advances (which were granted to the account holder's importer customer out of balances held in the EEFC accounts); and

h. disinvestment proceeds received by the resident account holder on conversion of shares held by him to ADRs/ GDRs under the ADR/GDR Scheme approved by the Government of India.

2) Debits: The debits allowed in these accounts are:

a. Payment outside India towards capital or current account transactions in accordance with the provisions of Foreign Exchange Management (Permissible Capital Account Transactions) Regulations, 2000 or Foreign Exchange Management (Current Account Transactions) Rules, 2000, respectively;

b. payment in foreign exchange towards cost of goods purchased from a 100 percent Export Oriented Unit or a Unit in an Export Processing Zone/ Software Technology Park/ Electronic Hardware Technology Park;

c. payment of customs duty in accordance with the provisions of Export Import Policy;
d. trade related loans/ advances, by an exporter account holder to his importer customer outside India, subject to complying the provisions of FEMA and the rules/ regulations made thereunder;

e. payment in foreign exchange to a person resident in India for supply of goods/ services including payments for air fare and hotel expenditure

3) Withdrawal in rupees are permitted from this account, provided the amount so withdrawn cannot be re-credited to the account.

4) The account will be in the form of a non-interest bearing account.

5) The claims settled in rupees by ECGC/ insurance companies should not be construed as export realisation in foreign exchange and the claim amount will not be an eligible credit to the EEFC account.

6) The sum total of the accruals in the account during a calendar month should be converted into Rupees on or before the last day of the succeeding calendar month after adjusting for utilization of the balances for approved purposes or forward commitments.

7) Fund-based/ non-fund based credit facilities should not be granted against the balances held in EEFC Accounts.

8) Exporters can repay packing credit advances, whether availed of in Rupee or in foreign currency, from balances in their EEFC account to the extent exports have actually taken place.

9) Balances held in the account may be credited to NRE/ FCNR (B) Accounts, at the option/ request of the account holders consequent upon change of their residential status from resident to non-resident.

3.2 Resident Foreign Currency (RFC) Account – RFC Account

1) A person resident in India is permitted to open a RFC account with an AD bank in India out of foreign exchange received or acquired by him:

Part II - Opening, holding and maintaining accounts in India by a person resident outside India

1. Introduction

1.1 The Foreign Exchange Management Act, 1999 (FEMA) empowers the Reserve Bank to frame regulations to restrict, regulate and prohibit the maintenance of deposits between a person resident in India and a person resident outside India. These regulations are notified under Notification No. FEMA 5/2000-RB of May 3, 2000, (FEMA 5) as amended from time to time.

2. Definitions

Some key terms used in the regulations are given below:

2.1 'Authorised Bank' is a bank including a co-operative bank authorised by the Reserve Bank to maintain an account of a person resident outside India.

2.2 ‘Authorised Dealer’ is a person authorised as an authorised dealer under sub-section (1) of section 10 of FEMA.

2.3 'Deposit' includes deposit of money with a bank, company, proprietary concern, partnership firm, corporate body, trust or any other person.

2.4 A ‘Non-resident Indian’ (NRI) is a person resident outside India who is a citizen of India or is a ‘Person of Indian Origin’.

2.5 A ‘Person of Indian Origin’ (PIO) is a citizen of any country other than Bangladesh or Pakistan if

   a) he at any time held an Indian passport, or

   b) he or either of his parents or any of his grandparents was a citizen of India by virtue of the Constitution of India or the Citizenship Act, 1955 (57 of 1955), or

   c) the person is a spouse of an Indian citizen or a person referred to at (a) or (b) above.

2.6 ‘Permissible currency’ is a foreign currency which is freely convertible.

2.7 ‘Relative' means relative as defined in section 6 of the Companies Act, 1956.

3. Exemptions

These restrictions are not applicable for the following:
3.1 Deposits in rupee accounts and special rupee accounts maintained by foreign diplomatic missions and diplomatic personnel.

3.2 Foreign currency accounts maintained by diplomatic missions, diplomatic personnel and non-diplomatic staff who are the nationals of the concerned foreign countries and hold official passport of foreign embassies in India, subject to the following conditions:

   a) The permissible credits to the account will be inward remittances received from outside India through banking channels; and transfer of funds, from the rupee account of the diplomatic mission in India, which are collected in India as visa fees and credited to such account;

   b) Funds held in such account if converted in rupees cannot be converted back into foreign currency;

   c) The account may be held in the form of current or term deposit account, and in the case of diplomatic personnel and non-diplomatic staff, may also be held in the form of savings account;

   d) The rate of interest on savings or term deposits shall be such as may be determined by the authorised dealer maintaining the account;

   e) The funds in the account may be repatriated outside India without the approval of Reserve Bank.

3.3 Deposits with authorized dealer maintained in rupees by persons resident in Nepal and Bhutan.

3.4 Deposits with authorized dealer maintained by any multilateral organization and its subsidiary/affiliate bodies and officials in India, of which India is a member nation.

4. Non-Resident (External) Rupee Account Scheme – (NRE Account):

The detailed instructions for opening and maintaining this account are laid down in Schedule 1 to Foreign Exchange Management (Deposit) Regulations, 2000, as amended from time to time. The salient features of the scheme are given below:
4.1 Non-resident Indians (NRIs) are permitted to open and maintain these accounts with authorised dealers and with banks (including cooperative banks) authorised by the Reserve Bank to maintain such accounts.

4.2 The accounts may be maintained in any form, e.g. savings, current, recurring or fixed deposit account etc.

4.3 Joint accounts can be opened by two or more NRIs or by an NRI with a resident relative(s) on ‘former or survivor’ basis. However, during the life time of the NRI account holder, the resident relative can operate the account only as a Power of Attorney holder.

4.4 Inward remittances to the account and remittances outside India from NRE account are permitted.

4.5 Credits permitted to this account as inward remittance are interest accruing on the account, interest on investment, transfer from other NRE/ FCNR(B) accounts, maturity proceeds if such investments were made from this account or through inward remittance.

4.6 The debits allowed from this account are local disbursements, transfer to other NRE/ FCNR(B) and investments in India.

4.7 Current income like rent, dividend, pension, interest etc. of NRIs will be construed as a permissible credit to their NRE account provided the Authorised Dealer is satisfied that the credit represents current income of the NRI account holder and income tax thereon has been deducted/ paid/ provided for, as the case may be.

4.8 An authorised dealer or its overseas branch or correspondent can grant loans against security of the funds to the account holder or a third party in or outside India without any limits subject to the usual margin requirements. The facility for premature withdrawal of the deposits shall not be available where loans against such deposits are availed of. The term “loan” shall include all types of fund based/ non-fund based facilities.

4.9 NRE accounts should be designated as resident accounts or the funds held in these accounts may be transferred to the RFC accounts, at the option of the account holder, immediately upon the return of the account holder to India for taking up employment or on change in the residential status.

4.10 In the event of the demise of an account holder, balances in the account can be transferred to the non-resident nominee of the deceased account holder. However, request from a resident nominee for remittance of funds outside India for meeting the liabilities, if any, of the deceased account holder or for similar other purposes, should be forwarded to the Reserve Bank for consideration.

4.11 Operations on an NRE account may be allowed in terms of Power of Attorney or other authority granted in favour of a resident by the non-resident account holder, provided such operations are restricted to withdrawals for local payments or remittance to the account holder himself through banking channels. In cases where the account holder or a bank designated by him is eligible to make investments in India, the Power of Attorney holder may be permitted to operate the account to facilitate such investment. The resident Power of Attorney holder is not allowed to (a) open a NRE account; (b) repatriate outside India funds held in the account other than to the account holder himself; (c) make payment by way of gift to a resident on behalf of the account holder; (d) transfer funds from the account to another NRE account.

4.12 Income from interest on balances standing to the credit of NRE Accounts is exempt from Income Tax. Likewise balances held in such accounts are exempt from wealth tax.

4.13 The rate of interest and tenor applicable to these accounts will be in accordance with the directions/ instructions issued by the Department of Banking Regulations, Reserve Bank of India.

5. Foreign Currency (Non-resident) Account (Banks) Scheme – FCNR (B) Account

The detailed instructions for opening and maintaining this account are laid down in Schedule 2 to Foreign Exchange Management (Deposit) Regulations, 2000, as amended from time to time. The salient features of the scheme are given below:

5.1 Non-resident Indians (NRIs) are permitted to open and maintain these accounts with authorised dealers and banks authorised by the Reserve Bank to maintain such accounts. Deposits may be accepted in any permissible currency.
5.2 The accounts can be maintained only in the form of fixed deposit.

5.3 Other conditions such as credits/debits, joint accounts, loans / overdrafts, operation by power of attorney etc., as applicable to an NRE account will be applicable to FCNR (B) account as well.

5.4 The rate of interest and tenor applicable to these accounts will be in accordance with the directions/ instructions issued by the Department of Banking Regulation, Reserve Bank of India.

6. Non-Resident (Ordinary) Account Scheme – NRO account

The detailed instructions for opening and maintaining this account are laid down in Schedule 3 to Foreign Exchange Management (Deposit) Regulations, 2000, as amended from time to time. The salient features of the scheme are given below:

6.1 Any person resident outside India (as per Section 2 (w) of FEMA), may open and maintain NRO account with an Authorised Dealer or an Authorised Bank for the purpose of putting through bona fide transactions denominated in Indian Rupees.

6.2 Post Offices in India may maintain savings bank accounts in the names of persons resident outside India and allow operations on these accounts subject to the same terms and conditions as are applicable to NRO accounts maintained with an authorised dealer/ authorised bank.

6.3 NRO (current/ savings) account can be opened by a foreign national of non-Indian origin visiting India, with funds remitted from outside India through banking channel or by sale of foreign exchange brought by him to India. The balance in the NRO account may be paid to the account holder at the time of his departure from India provided the account has been maintained for a period not exceeding six months and the account has not been credited with any local funds, other than interest accrued thereon.

6.4 Opening of accounts by individuals/ entities of Pakistan nationality/ ownership and entities of Bangladesh ownership requires prior approval of the Reserve Bank. However, individuals of Bangladesh nationality may be allowed to open these accounts subject to the individual/ s holding a valid visa and valid residential permit issued by Foreigner Registration Office (FRO)/ Foreigner Regional Registration Office (FRRO) concerned.
6.5 The accounts may be maintained in any form, e.g. savings, current, recurring or fixed deposit account.

6.6 The accounts may be held jointly with residents.

6.7 Inward remittances from outside India and legitimate dues in India are permissible credits to NRO account. Rupee gift/loan made by a resident to a NRI relative within the limits prescribed under the Liberalised Remittance Scheme may be credited to the latter’s NRO account.

6.8 The account can be debited for the purpose of local payments or remittance of current income abroad. Apart from these, balances in the NRO account cannot be repatriated abroad except by NRIs up to USD 1 million, subject to conditions specified in Foreign Exchange Management (Remittance of Assets) Regulations, 2000. Funds can be transferred to NRE account within this USD 1 Million facility.

6.9 Loans against the deposits can be granted in India to the account holder or third party subject to usual norms and margin requirement. The loan amount shall not be used for relending, carrying on agricultural/plantation activities or investment in real estate.

6.10 NRO accounts may be designated as resident accounts on the return of the account holder to India for any purpose indicating his intention to stay in India for an uncertain period. Likewise, when a resident Indian becomes a person resident outside India, his existing resident account should be designated as NRO account.

6.11 Powers have been delegated to the Authorized Dealers/ Authorised banks to allow operations on an NRO account in terms of a Power of Attorney granted in favour of a resident by the non-resident individual account holder provided such operations are restricted to local payments and remittances to non-residents.

6.12 To facilitate the foreign nationals to collect their pending dues in India, AD Category-I banks may permit such foreign nationals to re-designate their resident account maintained in India as NRO account on leaving the country after their employment to enable them to receive their pending bona fide dues, subject to the bank satisfying itself that the credit of amounts are bona fide dues of the account holder when she/he was a resident in India. The funds credited to the NRO account should be repatriated abroad immediately, subject to payment of the applicable income tax and other taxes in India. The amount repatriated abroad should not exceed USD one million per financial year. The debit to the account should be only for the purpose of repatriation to the account holder’s account maintained abroad. The account should be closed immediately after all the dues have been received and repatriated as per the declaration made by the account holder when the account was designated as an NRO account.

6.13 International Credit Cards - Authorised Dealer banks have been permitted to issue International Credit Cards to NRIs/PIOs, without prior approval of Reserve Bank. Such transactions may be settled by inward remittance or out of balances held in the cardholder’s FCNR (B) / NRE / NRO Accounts.

6.14 Income-Tax - The remittances (net of applicable taxes) will be allowed to be made by the Authorised Dealer banks on production of requisite information in the formats prescribed by the Central Board of Direct Taxes, Ministry of Finance, Government of India from time to time. Reserve Bank of India will not issue any instructions under FEMA, clarifying tax issues. It shall be mandatory on the part of Authorised Dealers to comply with the requirement of tax laws, as applicable.

7. Special Non-Resident Rupee Account - SNRR account

7.1 A Registered Foreign Portfolio Investor (RFPI) may open an SNRR account with an AD in India for routing the receipt and payment relating to purchase and sale of securities under the Portfolio investment scheme in accordance with Foreign Exchange Management (Transfer or issue of security by a person resident outside India) Regulations, 2000, dated May 3, 2000, as amended from time to time.
